We offer four types of door

Choose a model

Classic Door

A traditional door form that incorporates time-honored architectural elements and styles. These doors are frequently rectangular or square in shape and have a variety of panel arrangements.

Sliding Door

A door that opens and closes by sliding horizontally down a track or rails, often not swinging outward or inward.

Pivoting Door

Can either swing open in both directions because it revolves around a central pivot point or swing only in one way being blocked by the frame.

Fixed Third Door

In larger door layouts, such as French doors, it refer to a stationary panel, a third of the total size, or component placed next to a of doors, two third of the total size thus fixed third door.
